Day-by-day

Day 1

Preparing for Your Journey and onward to the edge of Tibet

You will need to arrive in Kunming, the capital of China's Yunnan province, before 2:30pm. After arrival, we will take you to China Driving Licenseing office. Don't worry, there are no medical tests, except for a simple eye test (which is easily passed), and then, within a few minutes, you will receive your temporary Chinese driving license.

After completing this step, you will return to Kunming airport for your short 1-hour flight to Shangri-La. With luck, you will still see the sun setting over the majestic mountains surrounding this northwestern corner of Yunnan: you have arrived at the edge of the Tibetan highlands.

A short transfer will take you from Shangri-La airport to your hotel which is set inside the grounds of one of the largest monasteries of South-West China.

You will enjoy dinner at the Songtsam Retreat where you can begin to acquaint yourself with the many flavours of Yunnan's cuisine and to meet your fellow travellers...then you will surely look forward to a good night's rest.

Day 2

Via the Tiger Leaping Gorge to Lijiang

In the morning, we would like to give you a taste of Shangri-La by visiting one of the largest Tibetan monasteries outside of Tibet itself as well as a private Tibetan home.

The monastery is called Ganden Sumtseling and is, in many ways, modeled after the Potala Palace in Lhasa. Join our guide to learn more about Tibetan Buddhism and, with luck to see and hear monks chanting in subdued yak butter candlelight.

After the monastery visit, we invite you to a private Tibetan home. This will give you a chance to see how locals live in this part of Tibet. If you're adventures, sample a local delicacy called zangba, made from highland barley, or take a sip of Tibetan Yak Butter Tea. Both are elements of Tibetan's staple, protein-rich diet. Then your driving journey will begin along a relative short and easy route toward Lijiang.

En route, we will be stopping at the Tiger Leaping Gorge, of course, for you to admire the power of the gorge, up close. You will need to go down (and therefore come back up) quite a lot of stairs, so please prepare accordingly. Of course, for those who want to enjoy the view but do not want to do the walking, there will be people ready to carry you down in a chair.

Day 3

In and around Lijiang

Lijiang lies two valleys over from the main road, so you will climb over one set of hills before dropping down into the valley surrounding Lake Lashi and climbing once again into the Lijiang valley. The scenic highlight of the valley is the Jade Dragon Snow Mountain (5,500m) – called Mt Saseto in the local language.

Lijiang is home to the Naxi minority – introduced to the West by Austrian-American botanist, Joseph Rock, who lived in the valley between 1922 and 1949. He spent much of his time in the region studying the Naxi, whose culture he feared would be extinguished by the encroaching Han Chinese culture. Luckily for us, many aspects of Naxi culture are still visible in Lijiang – elderly ladies walk the streets proudly wearing their traditional costumes – but Lijiang’s beauty and atmosphere are spoiled after dark by the noise and neon of ‘bar street’. Fortunately the very touristy section of Lijiang is confined to just a few streets, and it is easy to lose the crowds down quiet back streets.

Enjoy a stroll around Lijiang’s old town – a UNESCO World Heritage Site – and shop for souvenirs, or visit the nearby Jade Dragon Snow Mountain and take the cable car up – but beware of altitude sickness at the top (5,600m)! Alternatively, there are many wonderful hiking and horse-riding trails to nearby villages and in the countryside surrounding Lijiang. We will be happy to make suggestions and arrangements for you and our staff can accompany you should you wish.

Today’s breakfast and dinner is included in the journey price, lunch and activities are entirely up to you.

Short Itinerary

For those joining the shorter itinerary, today you will arrive in Kunming and process your temporary driving licenses, before driving south to the new Intercontinental Kunming.

Full Itinerary

For those on the full itinerary, today you will drive from Lijiang to Shaxi, formerly a stop on the Tea Horse Road – an ancient trade route that carried Yunnan’s fragrant tea into the arid highlands of Tibet. Shaxi is a small town, but its centre is very well-preserved and a delight to explore.

After eating lunch in a former coaching inn in the old town, we will continue along a beautiful country road to Xizhou, our overnight stop. Tonight you will stay in the Linden Centre, a lovingly converted Bai-minority mansion that has recently been converted to a lovely hotel. Sit and enjoy the view of the excellent highways back towards Kunming and on to a wonderful country hotel on the other side of the city. First however, spend the morning in Xizhou – either linger over a home-cooked breakfast or stretch your legs on a gentle walking tour of Xizhou. Setting out mid-morning, you will drive to the town of Chuxiong, where we will stop for lunch, before continuing along excellent roads in the afternoon to the superb Intercontinental Hotel, located on the shores of Dianchi Lake, 20 kilometres south of Kunming itself.

Day 6
Arriving in Xishuangbanna,
Yunnan’s deep south

In the morning you will drive from the Intercontinental onto the Kunming – Jinghong highway. In the beginning, you will likely experience morning Kunming rush hour, but after an hour or so the traffic will become thinner, the air cleaner again and the highway better. In fact, the highway from Kunming to Jinghong is one of the nicest highways we’ve driven on. The number of tunnels and bridges – including one of the tallest in the world – and the engineering that’s gone into it is impressive. After approximately four hours of driving (and gradually losing altitude from Kunming’s 1,800m), you will have lunch in a small town called Mojiang. Don’t expect anything fancy, but it will have to do for the day...it’s really the best en route this morning.

In the afternoon, you will continue driving on the Kunming – Jinghong highway for approximately 3.5 hours. The air and vegetation will become more and more subtropical. In Mengyang village, you will arrive at a toll booth where we turn south-east toward Mohan. The last part of today’s drive will be an excellent national road to the Anantara Hotel in Menglun where you will stay for two nights while you explore Xishuangbanna.

The warmer climate may prompt you to rest for a day with a good book – the choice is yours.

Day 8

Crossing the border into northern Lao

After a relaxed morning at the Anantara, you will depart for the China-Laos border which you will reach after about an hour and a half.

We have prepared you for all the border formalities to go smoothly, but it will nonetheless take a bit of time: here in South-East Asia, crossing borders is still an event where in much of Europe or America it has become a non-event. Crossing borders is not only an event, it is a romantic one...where nostalgia blends with adventure to deliver a powerful emotional mix.

Once in Laos, it's a short drive to your overnight stop in Luang Namtha, a charmingly sleepy little town that nevertheless counts as one of northern Laos' most important. Enjoy dinner in a pretty riverside restaurant that belongs to the Boat Landing hotel where you will stay. The Boat Landing is a charming inn that consist of small bungalows built in northern Laotian style. It is peaceful and calm and reminiscent of a simpler life.

Before dinner, why not try one of the bar's delicious drinks, for example one that is an icy mint cocktail? Very refreshing!

The cooking is fabulous and a mix of Chinese and Thai flavours, but with distinct and different overtones. After dinner, continue with another drink and relax to the sound of crickets in the gardens – the perfect way to ease into the relaxed rhythms of South-East Asia...

Day 9

On to the formerly infamous Golden Triangle...

This morning you will drive across beautiful northern Laos to the Thai border.

You will cross the lovely Nam Ha Eco-Park, a region of tiny villages and rolling, thickly forested hills. As you drive, you might just feel as if you had gone back in time – the road dates from 2008, but life in the surrounding villages seems to have continued unchanged for centuries. This feeling will be re-enforced during a visit to a gem of a small Laotian village set 1km off Route 3. Life there is as untouched by modernity as you will find along this entire journey...

After lunch in Houay Xai, which lies on the Laotian bank of the Mekong, you will cross the Mekong on a newly built bridge. Compared to the exit from China and entry into Lao the day before, the border crossing is quite uncomplicated. While you eat lunch, our team takes care of it all.

Once in Thailand, it will be a short drive north along the Mekong to the Golden Triangle and the luxurious Anantara Golden Triangle Hotel which is a gem in this part of the world – a hotel in the finest tradition of Thai hospitality and service.

Day 10

Relax at the Anantara or explore the Myanmar border area

You may want to take a break from the road today – make an excursion into the rainforest on elephant-back, eat a leisurely lunch at a riverside restaurant, lounge by the Anantara Golden Triangle Hotel's pool or visit the splendid Grand Hall of Opium, a modern museum where you can learn all about the poppies and opium for which the Golden Triangle gained notoriety in the past.

On the other hand, if you do feel like a bit more touring, we have an optional half-day driving excursion into the hills of northern Thailand. This excursion will take you, first, to the top of a mountain along which runs the border between Thailand and Burma: you'll be driving on the Thailand side, but less than 5m away will be Burma...there's an Army camp there, too... From the hill crest you will descend toward a Royal garden as beautiful as we've seen. And then, after lunch, enjoy a beautifully brewed cup of local coffee (Doi Tung Coffee...which is nowadays grown instead of poppy!) This coffee is to die for! (If you don't like coffee, they also have good tea and locally grown macadamia nuts!)

Today's breakfast is included in the tour price, dinner, lunch and activities are entirely up to you.

Day 11

To the capital of the old Lanna Kingdom

This is your last day of driving on this journey...and on wonderful roads it will be!

In the morning we drive from the Golden Triangle to just south of Chiang Rai for a visit to the stunning, vivid white temple of Wat Rong Khun. This visit is followed by a lovely al fresco lunch at the Le Meridien hotel in Chiang Rai which is situated on a piece of land near the Mae Kok River. and is home to two beautiful, enormous trees. The story goes that the two trees, planted over a century ago, are the symbols of two lovers whose love was forbidden by their parents. When Le Meridien built the hotel, it was discovered that the roots of the two trees are entwined...

In the afternoon you will drive the remaining few hours to Chiang Mai where you will be staying in one of the town's finest hotels before enjoying a farewell dinner in the evening... for which we have chosen a rather special location and culinary experience for you!

Day 12

Or would you like to stay on in Chiang Mai for a few more days with the beautiful Anantara hotel as your base?

Do you have to start your journey home today?

Or will you be tempted to fly south to relax on Thailand's gorgeous beaches? Or would you like to stay on in Chiang Mai for a few more days? We are happy to assist you with an extension of your stay.

Regardless of how your trip ends, we hope that you will leave us refreshed and with many new memories of your exotic journey through South-East Asia...

Choice of Cars

We include in the package price an SUV we procure from Avis or Hertz or another reputable car rental company. Most of the SUVs are Toyotas, but on occasion Mitsubishi's or other brands may also make an appearance. For some itineraries, we are able to offer you an option to upgrade your car to the new models from Audi.

We wish the car rental markets of China would be more developed and we could give you more choice, but this is not so: since we want to provide well-maintained and well-insured cars, the choice is rather limited.

But SUVs are in fact the right choice for driving journeys in this part of the world because they are spacious enough to accommodate a lot of luggage, photography equipment, and good-and-bad-weather gear. Also, they reinforce the feeling of adventure, exploration and discovery...which is, in the end, the mood of journeys in this region, no matter how comfortable or even luxurious the night's hotel may be.

What's more, they offer sufficient clearance when required and thus add a sense of safety and all-round ability. (4-wheel drive capability is hardly needed in China these days since all roads are either very well-paved or, with good gravel, offer solid support.)

And so SUVs from reputable brands are our car of choice!

“ ANY car,
as long as it is an SUV ”

Adventures and Discoveries in Local Cuisines

While this itinerary is not one of our 'Foodie'-themed journeys, we do believe that each one of our journeys should introduce you not only to hidden gems of cultural and scenic beauty, but that sampling local cuisines is also a must.

Wherever you travel with us, we will order, with very few exceptions, dishes fresh and on location with an emphasis on local produce. It is not uncommon for our guides to venture into the kitchen to pick this, that or the other vegetable and to ask the cook to prepare them in the finest possible way. (On occasion we do pre-order a meal: this will normally be the case only for special occasions!)

Wine and beer is always included in our meals for you to enjoy. (When we travel into high-altitude, we suggest moderation!)

Finally, if you have special dietary requirements are particularly interested in the culinary aspect of one of our journeys, please let us know.

For private journeys, we can, of course, tailor the meal experience to your taste (and budget).
